Fresh and vibrant, the fabulously expressed bouquet shows rockmelon, raspberry, watermelon and lemon zest characters, leading to a lively palate that is juicy and refreshing. A delightfully styled sparkling wine made from chardonnay and pinot noir, offering terrific drinking.

The nose is refreshing and mouthwatering, and shows a delicate line of bread and yeasty detail, unveiling a little toast. Dry to taste and medium-bodied, the palate is brisk and lively with refreshing acidity enlivening the mouthfeel. The palate has a moderately concentrated core of softly sweet stonefruits, florals and berryfruits. Nuances of bread and yeast emerge, integrating with the fruit. This is a youthfully fresh and firm, thirst-quenching dry sparkling rosé with restrained stonefruit, floral and berry flavours and subtle bread-yeasty elements on a lively palate with some grip.

Offering good value, the non-vintage sparkling I tasted in August 2018 is a 50:50 blend of Chardonnay and Pinot Noir, grown in Marlborough (two-thirds) and Hawke's Bay. Pale pink, it is attractively scented, crisp and lively, with strawberryish, gently yeasty flavours, in a moderately complex style, very fresh, delicate and harmonious. Made by the Charmat method it's a dry style well worth trying.
